WHO WE ARE

Rockhampton Flexible Learning Centre is a co-educational secondary school in the Edmund Rice Tradition.

Rocky Flexi as it is commonly known, responds to the needs of young people in the local community by offering an alternative educational approach for those who are having difficulty in accessing mainstream schooling for a variety of reasons.

Rocky Flexi prides itself in being able to build strong relationships with young people. With that trust, there is greater capacity for the school to support young people to re-engage in learning and to map out their future pathways.

We acknowledge the unique differences of each young person. We strive to provide individual wellbeing and learning programs to meet their specific needs.
